School Behaviour Support and Management at Hamilton South Public School

Meeting the diverse wellbeing and behaviour needs of students can be a complex task. Our school implements whole school practices and programs for the long-term wellbeing, learning and safety of all students.

Our school adopts the care continuum to embed a whole-school system, focused on a prevention approach to address the full spectrum of student behaviour needs. Students are supported at each stage of the care continuum, through specific evidence based whole-school, and targeted strategies and practices:

- Prevention - whole school approaches to establish and maintain safe, respectful learning environments for all students. A learning environment includes classrooms, playground, online and all school events and activities. When applied, these approaches will underpin effective teaching and reduce minor behaviours of concern.
- Early intervention - this is when all, a group or some students require early intervention to deal with emerging, low-level behaviours of concern. These are in addition to the above, and are early practices, strategies or adjustments to encourage positive behaviour expectations.
- Targeted intervention - this is targeted support for students who may exhibit complex and challenging behaviours to encourage positive behaviours. This can include facilitating positive behaviour supports, and making targeted and reasonable adjustments.
- Individual intervention - a comprehensive system of support and consultation with parents and specialists, for students with highly complex and challenging behaviours. Often these need individual assessment, monitoring and review.

When an intervention is needed associated with any of the above four intervention points along the care continuum, the intervention may be through a strategy, practice or service.

Whole School Approach

The strategies and practices listed below are used by our school to prevent and respond to student behaviours of concern when they occur, consistent with Department policies and procedures. Many of these strategies and interventions support students to learn and practice expected behaviours using explicit teaching and feedback.

Reflection and restorative practices

The following practices are used in our school. Please refer to the table below to understand key information in regard to these practices. These practices have been presented to teachers and P&C for consultation and reflect Department expectations. Restorative practices tools provided by NSW DoE guide restorative work with students. <https://education.nsw.gov.au/student-wellbeing/attendance-behaviour-and-engagement/behaviour-support-toolkit/support-for-teachers/restorative-practices/restorative-practices>

Action	When and how long?	Who coordinates?	How are these recorded?
Reflection A response for a single student or a group of students. Reflection opportunities include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> supporting the student to reflect on their behaviour and make positive choices directed playtime in an identified area of the playground or modified play One to one conversations with teacher with restorative focus. Reset (self-directed) Available to all students especially where there is a need to regulate emotions. The student removes themselves from a stressful situation to prevent an escalation of behaviour or recompose themselves by going to a prearranged room or area where they can be monitored at all times. This time provides opportunities for the student to self-regulate emotions and behaviour. Pre-determined area for reset space is known. Where possible, acknowledgment of leaving to reset is made by the student to ensure teacher knows where student is going. decompressing, deescalating or calming are made available where needed (pre-identified collaboratively with student where possible). This strategy will be paired with restorative conversations.	Time as needed to de escalate.
Relocate and Reset (teacher directed) This is implemented after repeated patterns of behaviour where reset in the classroom has not helped. This is part of an agreed student's behaviour support plan based on an assessment of their behaviour. The student is directed away from the educational activity to a different learning space with a teacher or supervisor. Tools for decompressing, deescalating or calming are made available where needed (pre identified collaboratively with student where possible). This strategy will be paired with restorative conversations.	After reset processes in the classroom have been unsuccessful or When there is a need to prevent escalation of behaviour. Partnership with parents/carers

Hamilton South Public School will partner with parents/carers in establishing expectations for parent engagement in developing and implementing student behaviour management strategies by:

- sharing key information and school approaches to support positive behaviour and support groups or individual student behaviour causing concern
- providing opportunity to contribute to the review process and community feedback
- consult with the P&C and Aboriginal community to inform school practice and procedures.

Hamilton South Public School will communicate these expectations to parents/carers by:

- providing information on the school's website and regular newsletters
- targeted communication to individual parents / carers or groups as needed
- Learning support meetings as needed

School Anti-bullying Plan
